MERGERS AND ACQUISITIONS
FALL 2005 EARLY READING ASSIGNMENT

JD students must have taken Corporations (or a basic corporate law course in an ABA-accredited law school) before enrolling in this course. LL.M. students who have not taken Corporations (or a basic corporate law course in an ABA-accredited law school) must take Corporations in Fall 2005.

To refresh your memory about the basics of corporate law, read Chapter 3 of Stephen M. Bainbridge, Mergers and Acquisitions (2003). Copies of this chapter are placed on reserve in the law library. You may skip Sections 3.3 through 3.5. LL.M. students who are also taking Corporations in Fall 2005 must complete this reading by the end of the first week of the semester. Other students are encouraged to do so as well.
