For our first class, which will be held Tuesday, January 10 at 11:05 a.m. in FH 214, please read pages 1-6, 9-21, and 27-34 in Murray and Flechtner, Sales, Leases, and Electronic Commerce. You should also prepare answers to Problem 7 in the text. Consider the following hypothetical, which we will discuss during class: You have entered into a binding contract with a cabinet maker to construct custom-made cabinets that are designed to hold stereo equipment in your home. The day after you enter into the contract, the cabinetmaker repudiates prior to completing manufacture of the cabinets. Are the rights of the parties under the contract governed by Article 2 of the Uniform Commercial Code (UCC)? If the parties are in different countries, are their rights governed by the United Nations Convention on Contracts for the Sale of International Goods (the CISG)? In order to answer those questions, please be thoroughly familiar with sections 2-102, 2-105, 2-106, 2-401, and 2-501 of the UCC and with Articles 1-4, 7, 10, and 95 of the CISG. Both the UCC and the CISG can be found in Burton and Eisenberg, Contract Law: Selected Source Materials. Any statutory supplement that contains the UCC, the CISG, and the other statutes mentioned in the Syllabus will suffice for this course.
