First class: Discovery

Coursepack: articles on Hurricane Katrina’s effect on New Orleans
Dukeminier & Krier, Property (5th ed.): 1-19

NB: The coursepack may not be available yet; xeroxes of the coursepack reading for the first class are available by the desk of my assistant, Ms. Katie Surrence, Vanderbilt Hall 314.

Ask yourself two questions:
What gives property its value?
Who owns North America and why?

In addition, while reading the articles on New Orleans, remind yourself of the central issues in the Case of the Speluncean Explorers, which you read in August as the hurricane reached that city.

The full syllabus will be posted on Blackboard shortly.
