Assignment

Conflict of Laws meets on Monday & Wednesday 9:00-10:15 and Thursday from 9:00-9:50*. The classroom is FH 210. Note that the class will not meet during the first week of classes—on Wed. August 30th or Thursday August 31st. The first class will meet at 9:00 A.M. on Wednesday September 6th. (It is a legislative Monday but Conflict of Laws is also scheduled on Mondays in the regular classroom, Furman Hall 210.)

The text for the Conflict of Laws course is Lowenfeld, Conflict of Laws: Federal, State and International Perspectives (Revised 2nd ed. 2002). There will be additional Distributions for the course during the semester. Distributions will be posted on the course website NYU Classes under the heading “Resources.” The Tentative Syllabus will also be posted there.

For the first class on Wednesday (Legislative Monday) September 6th, please read Alabama R.R. v. Carroll (Cb., p.1) and Horn v. North British Railway (Cb., p. 6). For the second class on Thursday, September 7th please read Milliken v. Pratt (Cb., p. 14). Also, look briefly at Art. 4, 10, 11. 13 of the Rome I Regulation posted on NYU Classes. Excerpts from the U.S. Constitution and the U.S. Judicial Code will also be posted there.

* Students should arrange their schedules so as not to schedule meetings or clinic hours during that time on Thursdays because the Conflicts class will meet on many Thursdays from 9:00 until 10:30 A.M.
